Our Neighborhood

The Rosemary District is fast becoming the hotbed for growth in Sarasota. With the continued investment of building modern and accessible residential, commercial and mixed use developments, this historical neighborhood will define Trop-Urban living for years to come.

One of the major perks of living in the Rosemary District is accessibility. Thanks to the district's proximity to Downtown Sarasota, you can walk to the nearby shops, gourmet restaurants, and other world-renowned attractions. Live, learn, and be entertained when you live just minutes from Main Street, Selby Public Library, Marina Jack, Whole Foods, the Van Wezel Performing Arts Center, and Downtown Sarasota. Absorb the beauty by the Bay when you take a jog or bike ride over the Ringling Bridge. Then head to St. Armand's Circle and Lido Key for world-class beaches, shopping, and dining. Finally, when you just have to head out of town for a quick weekend getaway, SRQ Airport is there to accommodate your travel needs.
